To the readers who bought this book, I sincerely give thanks!

Because this is the first time in my life that I have published a tankobon, I am thrilled. This is also the first time I have been serialized. Every time I've submitted something I've been very nervous.
I wanted to draw a manga where someone was being chased around. Thus, this manga was born.

To my readers, again, I sincerely give thanks!
Well, I hope that next time you will read more. And next time I hope to thank you all some more.
